The Raising My V.O.I.C.E. Tour

Join self-published author
Jeffery A.
Faulkerson
as he promotes his new book and engages audiences in candid conversations about
functional families, racial reconciliation, civic engagement and collective prosperity.

Jeffery A. Faulkerson is the Founder, President & CEO of PRACTICAL SOLUTIONS, a faith-based social service practice with for-profit offerings in communications/media relations and non-profit offerings in parent education and support, postsecondary advising and planning and conference planning, coordination and implementation. A stay-at-home parent since August 2005, he has dedicated himself to “promoting functional families through words and deeds.”

In Raising My V.O.I.C.E. (Verbalizing Orderly Impressions through Creative Endeavors), he chronicles his quest to understand why Americans focus so much on their differences, not enough on their similarities. Pulling from the headlines of yesterday and today, he offers sound advice for how we can prosper collectively through our love of God and neighbor. Ultimately, however, Raising My V.O.I.C.E. (Verbalizing Orderly Impressions through Creative Endeavors) is one man using the power of the pen to prompt serious dialogue about the issues that bind us.

Raised by a single-parent mother in one of Kingsport, Tennessee’s poorest communities, Mr. Faulkerson graduated from Dobyns-Bennett High School in 1986, and earned both his bachelor’s and master’s degrees in Social Work from the University of Tennessee, Knoxville in 1991 and 1998, respectively. He has over 16 years of professional experience in nonprofit administration and direct service delivery to children and their parents.

Jeffery A. Faulkerson has been happily married to his wife Regina for over 14 years, and is the proud father to three-year-old Caleb. He and his family currently reside in Wake Forest, North Carolina.
