Emerging Writers of Purpose Needed for Collaborative Book Projects

ARE YOU AN EMERGING WRITER OF PURPOSE?

If so, you need to send me (Jeffery A. Faulkerson) three (3) nonfiction writing samples to be considered as a writing partner for self-published book projects being conceived and produced by PRACTICAL SOLUTIONS' For-Profit Services Division. Your submission should also include the following information:

Name

Street Address

City/State/Zip Code

Telephone Number

E-mail Address

Brief statement (250-300 words) about what community change means to you

The requested information should be attached to an e-mail as PDF documents and sent to my attention at Jfaulk28@nc.rr.com.

Upcoming book projects will focus on Christian faith, obedience and service, functional families, racial reconciliation, civic engagement, collective prosperity, and educational access and opportunity. The names of contributing writers will appear on the covers of each completed book project.

Individuals selected as writing partners will also receive payment and royalties for their contributions. Monies received from the sale of our products will be divided equally among the 4-6 individuals selected to work on any given book project (Please note that a different team of writing partners will be selected to work on conceived projects. Again, the goal is to build a pool of emerging writers of purpose).

Selected writers with completed collaborative works will be required to make themselves available for media interviews and events (e.g., conferences, book fairs, etc.) related to the published books.

Selected writing partners will also be invited to become due-paying members of PRACTICAL SOLUTIONS Nonprofit Services Division, which is recognized as a not-for-profit organization in North Carolina under Section 501(c)(3) of the Internal Revenue code. It exists to "promote functional families through words and deeds."

I look forward to receiving your e-mail responses at Jfaulk28@nc.rr.com.

Take care of yourselves, and God bless.
